

A SYMPOSIUM ON “HUMAN-NATURE INTERACTIONS OF THE RIVERINE
SOCIETIES IN SARAWAK: A TRANSDISCIPLINARY APPROACH”
Harbour View Hotel, Kuching, Sarawak, Malaysia
29th June, 2012

Program book

8:30 – 9:00 : Arrival of guests
9:00 – 9:05 : Welcoming remarks by Prof Noboru Ishikawa
9:05 – 9:15 : Address by SFC
9:15 – 9:45 : Introduction by Noboru Ishikawa
9:45 – 10:00 : Media break / tea break

Chairperson : UNIMAS

10:00 – 10:30 : Socio-economic impacts of oil palm industry on rural communities in Sarawak, Malaysia by Yumi Kato and Ryoji Soda

10:30 – 11:00 : Material and Financial Metabolism in Oil Palm Production: A Company's Case in Sarawak, Malaysia by Yucho Sadamichi and Fumikazu Ubukata

11:00 – 11:30 : Influence of Land-use on Stream Water Chemistry in Bintulu Division, Sarawak, Malaysia: Preliminary Results of Snap-shot Sampling by Naoko Tokuchi, Keitaro Fukushima, Hiromitsu Samejima and Osamu Kozan

11:30 – 12:00 : The Birds' Nests Commodity Chain between Sarawak and East Asia by Daniel Chew and Tetsu Ichikawa

12:05 – 14:30 : Lunch break and Friday prayers

Chairperson : SFC

14:30 – 15:00 : Logging history and wildlife in Anap-Muput(?) (Hiromitsu Samejima)

15:00 – 15:30 : Wildlife and salt licks inside a production forest environment by Jason Hon

15:30 – 16:00 : Presentation by Joanes Ungang, Belden Gimán & Hiromitsu Samejima

16:00 – 16:30 : Presentation by Malcolm Demies & Hiromitsu Samejima

Finish early?? Or extra presentation

16:30 – 17:00 : Tea break?

17:00 : End

Jointly organised by
Centre for Southeast Asian Studies, Kyoto University,
Institute of East Asian Studies, Life and Green Kyoto
University, UNIMAS
and Sarawak Forestry Corporation